Summer Patterns and Counting

Summer worksheets, ages 3 to 5. Patterns to finish and pictures to count.

1. What comes next?

Say the pictures out loud as you point to each one.

Pattern 1: sun, ice cream, sun, ice cream, sun

Pattern 2: beach ball, shell, beach ball, shell

2. Count the summer things

Point to each picture once, and say the number out loud.

Count the suns. How many? ___

Count the ice creams. How many? ___

Count the beach balls. How many? ___

MY SUMMER COUNT

Count each strip twice, then write your number on the line beside the question. The guide on page 3 holds the answers.

My name: _____

Print in color if you can. In black and white, the shapes are still easy to tell apart.

Summer Words and Letters

Summer worksheets, ages 3 to 5. Three summer games on one page: circle, hunt, and draw.

1. Circle the summer word

Each row holds three words, and one of them belongs to summer. Circle that one.

SUN	SNOW	SCARF
SAND	SNOWMAN	MITTENS
ICE CREAM	HOT CHOCOLATE	BOOTS
SWIM	SKI	SLED

2. Letter hunt

Hunt through the grid for the letter S. Circle each one you spot, and keep count.

M	Y	P	S	Q	C	N	B
A	Y	Y	W	N	A	U	T
T	V	M	X	E	S	Y	R
U	H	D	R	O	S	V	S
G	Q	S	S	H	X	H	E
R	C	U	Z	P	K	Q	S
I	Y	G	Q	G	T	E	F
F	L	K	J	F	S	B	D

I found ___ letter S.

3. Draw your summer

Fill the box with your favorite summer day. A beach, a garden, an ice cream, anything that feels like summer to you.

No racing today. Slow hands and a steady pencil win.

Grown-Ups Guide and Answer Key

Summer worksheets, ages 3 to 5. How to run these sheets, and every answer, so you never have to guess.

How to run these sheets

Keep it short. Ten minutes a sheet is plenty. One sheet after breakfast beats five sheets on a rainy Sunday.

Say the pattern first. Sit beside your child for the first pattern and say it out loud together: sun, ice cream, sun, ice cream. Saying the pattern out loud is what lets a child finish it alone.

Touch each picture once. For the counting strips, count slowly, with one touch for each picture. One touch per picture keeps the count true.

> When the sheets are done, ask: tell me one thing you counted today, and one thing you want to do this summer. That little chat is what turns a worksheet into a summer memory.

Answer key

Patterns, page 1. Pattern 1 ends ice cream, then sun. Pattern 2 ends beach ball, then shell.

Counting, page 1. 3 suns, 5 ice creams, and 4 beach balls.

Letter hunt, page 2. There are 8 letter S hiding in the grid.

These pages are a light activity set for home use and for teachers in class. Nothing here counts as health guidance or therapy of any sort.
